

CABINET HOLD MEETING TO DISCUSS AFFAIRS.

MR. CORTELYOU WILL RETAIN HIS POSITION AS SECRETARY—PRESIDENT IS TOLD OF THE POLICY OF THE MEMBERS OF THE CABINET.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—After a suspension of three days as a mark of respect to the dead President, the business of the Government at Washington was resumed at 9 a. m. today. The train bearing President Roosevelt and the members of his Cabinet arrived at the Pennsylvania station at 9:20 o'clock and fifteen minutes later the President entered the White House, and going at once to the elevator proceeded to the Cabinet room, where President McKinley was waiting to do the greater part of his work.

New Chief at White House.
When the new Chief Executive reached the White House he walked briskly to the big door which swung wide open to admit him. He spoke pleasantly as he passed to the watchman and other employees of the mansion, and reaching his office, was joined almost immediately by Secretary Long, who did not go to Cannon to take part in the funeral ceremonies. Soon afterward Senator Cullom called to pay his respects and following him came Senator Proctor, one of the President's close personal friends.

Secretary Long informed the President as to the condition of affairs in his office and was asked as to the work of the Schley Court of Inquiry. With Senator Cullom, President Roosevelt exchanged pleasant greetings and received the assurances of the support of the Illinois Senator. With Senator Proctor there was a similar exchange of expressions of good will.

Will Retain Cortelyou.
The President's former secretary, Mr. Leob, Jr., will probably be Assistant Secretary. Mr. Cortelyou, at the President's earnest request, will retain his position as his secretary.

At 11 o'clock all the members of the Cabinet had arrived at the White House and soon were seated around the familiar table. President Roosevelt occupied a seat at his head and in the chair long occupied by his predecessor. The gloom and solemnity which characterized the meeting was not unbefitting the occasion.

Long Will Retire.
Nearly all the members of the present Cabinet are quite sure to remain during Mr. Roosevelt's term, but it is very probable that Secretary Long will retire within the next few months. He feels that he can resign without embarrassment to Mr. Roosevelt and therefore it is thought that he will ask the President, during the next few months, to permit him to retire.

Cabinet Meeting.
The Cabinet was in session about an hour and a half, all of the time being spent in a general review of the more important questions which will require the attention of the new President.

All of the members were present except Attorney General Knox, who stopped for a few days in Pittsburgh. Each member explained to the President the policy which had been followed in dealing with the matters under consideration and their present status. No new business was taken up.

Have Full Confidence.
Members subsequently expressed themselves as having full confidence in Mr. Roosevelt's ability to give the country a strong and conservative administration and will have their loyal support to the same degree as they gave it to the late President. It is thought that Tuesdays and Fridays will be selected by the new President as the Cabinet days, following in this the preference of Mr. McKinley.

SIX MONTHS FOR A HOODLUM.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Sidney Bennett, a young hoodlum, was today sentenced to serve six months in jail by Judge Fritz for destroying a picture of President McKinley and an American flag and mourning with which the picture was draped.

Two more rowdies, Charles McLaughlin and Joseph Kennedy, are awaiting trial on a similar charge.

SAN FRANCISCO STRIKE IS A WAITING GAME.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—The strike of the teamsters and dockmen has become a fight of waiting and patience. The lines of resistance have been as carefully and as completely drawn as human skill can direct, and from now on little can be done to hasten the outcome.

As far as can be ascertained, there is no more possibility of a break in the ranks of the strikers than there was a week ago. The leaders seem to have the men well under control and as far as outward indications go there is no

VIGILANTE COMMITTEE IN SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—The Post says: Another Vigilante Committee is being formed in San Francisco.

Despite many denials of its truth, the foregoing statement is now known to be a fact.

The Post has the information upon undeniable authority that the formation of a Vigilante Committee is being rapidly effected, and that within a short time the body will be in a position to deal sternly with violators of the peace laws. The men who will later be found to be identified with the movement are all representatives of the prominent citizenship of San Francisco, determined—without a single purpose—to stop the lawless conduct of an unruly class and give protection to all the people of the city.

Leaders in the movement deny that the purpose of the organization is to combat unionism, but simply to protect law abiding citizens.

MRS. M'KINLEY SAID TO BE IMPROVING.

CANTON, O., Sept. 20.—Mrs. McKinley's condition was more favorable this morning than at any time since the arrival of the party from Washington. Her condition during the last few days was as good as could have been expected and she has had considerable rest.

After 11 o'clock last night a guard maintained quiet in front of the house that no noise might disturb her. It is hoped by friends and attending physicians that she will be able to leave her room today and give attention to some matters calculated to take her mind from the depressing incidents of the past week.

BOERS MAKE ANOTHER RAID.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Lord Kitchener reports that the Boers have captured a company of mounted infantry and two guns at Viakfontein. One officer was killed. The Boers, in superior force, surrounded the British. Lord Kitchener is making a strict investigation and has sent columns of troops in pursuit of the Boers.

BATTLE OF SANTIAGO IS BEING HEARD BEFORE COURT OF INQUIRY SITTING AT WASHINGTON NAVY YARD.

ADMIRAL DEWEY DECLARES THAT THE COURT WANTS TO KNOW WHETHER SCHLEY DID HIS DUTY IN REFERENCE TO DESTROYING THE SPANISH WARSHIP COLON WHILE IN THE HARBOR AT SANTIAGO.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—After an intermission of eight days the Schley Naval Court of Inquiry resumed its sittings at 11 o'clock today in the toolshop at the Navy Yard. Rear Admiral Ramsay occupied the seat which, on the first day of the session, was filled by Rear Admiral Howison. All three members of the court were in service uniform and the morning air was cold enough to make their closely buttoned coats appear comfortable. Mrs. Dewey accompanied her husband and remained a short time. The general attendance was not large.

Court Called to Order.
The court was called to order by a simple word from Admiral Dewey.

The first order of business was the reading by Judge Advocate Lemly of the order of the Navy Department, appointing Rear Admiral Ramsay to a place on the court, in place of Rear Admiral Howison, and when this was accomplished Captain Lemly turned to Rear Admiral Schley and asked him, as he did when Admiral Howison was challenged, whether he had objection to urge against any member of the court. The Admiral arose as this question was asked and replied:

"I have not."

The Judge Advocate then swore the members of the court collectively and then, in turn, was sworn as Judge Advocate.

The court then retired for the purpose of discussing the methods of procedure. Before the withdrawal a letter from Admiral Schley to the Navy Department requesting to be supplied with all papers bearing on the case and the Department's reply granting the request, were read.

Chart Is Incorrect.
At 11:25 the court returned from its consultation. Judge Advocate Lemly, addressing Admiral Schley as the "applicant," asked if he had any suggestions to make as to the methods of procedure, whether he had something to offer, or desired that he (Lemly) proceed. The Admiral responded with a nod of the head and a move of the hand, "Go ahead."

Mr. Lemly then presented the report of the Bureau of Navigation for 1898, a hydrographic chart of the West Indies and adjacent seas and other charts. He stated explicitly that they were introduced not as testimony but as books of reference.

"Will they preclude the introduction of original documents?" Judge Wilson asked.

"Not at all," was the reply. "On the contrary, we shall desire to introduce the original documents when opportunity offers."

Captain Parker made objection to the hydrographic chart when it was presented.

"It is grossly incorrect," he said. "As a matter of fact the coast line of Cuba is six miles further south and four miles further west than it should be."

He withdrew his objection when assured that the chart was not to be used as evidence.

First Witness Called.
Admiral Francis J. Higginson, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic squadron, was the first witness called. He said he had, as captain, commanded the battleship Massachusetts during the Spanish war, and that he was a part of the "flying squadron" of which Admiral Schley had been in command. He told of joining the fleet at Newport News, of going to Key West and then, on the 22d of May, of going to Cienfuegos, Cuba. Key West was left on May 19, 1898, and Cienfuegos reached on the 22d.

"What was then done to secure communication with the Cuban forces on shore?" Captain Lemly asked.

"Nothing to my knowledge," the witness replied. "I did not see that anything was done, but I understood that information concerning the Cubans was received through Captain McCalla."

Movements of Squadron.
Admiral Higginson said in response to questions that this was later. He also told, in reply to questions, of the presence of the coiller Merrimac and of the departure from Cienfuegos and the arrival at Santiago on the evening of the 28th.

In reply to questions, he said that the Massachusetts had at that time taken on about thirteen tons of coal, but that as the weather was rough this was done with difficulty.

The witness also told of the fleet's leaving Santiago for Key West on the night of its arrival at the former place, and how, after steaming westward for some time, the vessels, all in response to Commodore Schley's signals, returned and steamed to within two or three miles of the mouth of the harbor.

"What happened to cause the decision to return to Key West?"

"I don't know."

"What was the condition of the weather at the time for coaling at sea?"

"It was not impossible to coal, I think."

"Did you have any conference with the commanding officer in regard to returning to Santiago after you had gotten on the way to Key West?"

"None," he added under general orders. All we did was to follow the signals of the flagships—the signals of the commander-in-chief."

but the Colon was then 1,000 yards beyond Morro Castle.

Where Was the Admiral.
The vessel had lain there until she was fired upon, which was done on May 31, and had then retired.

Describing this engagement, Admiral Higginson said it was on the day before the arrival of reinforcements under Admiral Sampson. He said that Admiral Schley had come aboard and said that he wanted to go in and fire on the Colon.

"So we went in and fired on her," continued the witness. He said the shots fell short of the Colon and that the Spanish shore batteries had in turn fired at the bombarding ships.

In reply to questions as to what had been accomplished by the bombardment, the witness said that it had served to draw the fire of the Spanish shore battery and to give an indication of what it was composed of.

"What did you think of its composition?"

"I did not think it amounted to anything."

"Where was Admiral Schley during the bombardment?"

"At one time he was with me in the conning tower, but most of the time he was on the outside of it. I was near him most of the time."

"Describe the Admiral's manner in this engagement."

"I hardly know how to answer that question, except to say that his manner was that of a commander-in-chief."

"Why did you not go in and attack?"

"What impression did the Admiral's manner in that engagement make upon you?"

Mr. Raynor, counsel for Admiral Schley, objected to this question, and after some contention the question was withdrawn.

Judge Advocate Lemly stated before withdrawing the question that he considered the point as embraced in the precept and said that while the task was a disagreeable one he considered it his duty to press it, and intimated that he would do so at another time.

"Why did you not go in and destroy the Colon in the engagement on May 31?" Judge Advocate Lemly asked the witness.

"Because we were not ordered to do so," replied the witness.

Later on the witness volunteered the statement: "I think the Colon could have been destroyed where she lay at anchor that day."

Elevation of the Guns.
Judge Advocate Lemly then offered Admiral Higginson's report of the 5th of August, saying the report had been made in the line of duty. Judge Wilson, of counsel for Admiral Schley, said no objection would be made, but that counsel for the applicant did not desire the unobjectioned acceptance of the report to operate as a precedent.

Captain Lemly announced that he had no further questions to ask of Admiral Higginson, and counsel for Admiral Schley stated they had no questions to put. It was then stated by Captain Lemly that the court had some questions of its own to put.

These questions were written. The first was concerning the elevation of the guns during the bombardment of the Colon on May 31. The reply was that at first they were 7,800 feet and later 9,000 feet. The next question was as to whether there was any place of shelter near Santiago where flying squadrons could have coaled after their arrival at Santiago.

Admiral Higginson replied that Guantanamo was only forty miles to the east.

The third question, coming as it did from the court, created something of a sensation, which was added to by the reply. The question was:

"Was every effort made by Admiral Schley to destroy or capture the Spanish steamer Colon as she lay at anchor in the harbor at Santiago, between the 27th and 31st of May?"

"Object," "object," "object," came from each of Admiral Schley's counsel.

Before a halt could be had the witness replied:

"No, I don't think it was."

The question and reply led to a legal controversy. Judge Wilson and Mr. Raynor both gave reasons for their objections. They contended that the question called for the opinion of the witness, whereas only facts were admissible.

What Dewey Said.
Judge Raynor asked: "May I ask the court if, according to the method of procedure here, the court has ruled that we are not at liberty to object to any question at all, that may be asked?"

Admiral Dewey replied: "While this court is bound to investigate all the facts, we have the right to ask any question that will bring out the facts. One of the charges against Admiral Schley is whether or not every effort incumbent upon the commanding officer of the fleet under such circumstances was made by Commodore Schley to capture or destroy the Spanish cruiser Colon, as she lay at anchor in the entrance of Santiago harbor May 27 to 31, inclusive. We have asked that question and we have his (Admiral Higginson's) opinion. This court, by the precept is obliged to give an opinion upon the conclusion of the investigation. Now, in the opinion of the court, and in order to form our opinion we wanted Admiral Higginson's opinion on that subject."

As to the Precept.
Judge Wilson—I understand that precept, reading it through from end to end, to be simply this, that there shall be an investigation to get at the facts. And when you have gotten at the facts, then you express your opinion, but you are not called upon, as I most respectfully submit, and are not permitted to take some one else's opinion. You have a right to get all the facts you can, and that is what we want, but otherwise you will see that you might have a great variety of opinions and all the opinions of subordinates. In other words, the precept don't call for anybody's opinion except the opinion of the honorable court.

Admiral Dewey—in the opinion of one member of the court, and perhaps of the others, we do not ask his opinion, but a statement of a matter of fact. We ask 'Was everything done?' We don't say in your opinion?"

Afternoon Session.
Judge Raynor made an extended argument, quoting many legal authorities against the admissibility of the opinion of witnesses, and he was speaking when, at 1 o'clock, the court took a recess for an hour for luncheon.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the court was called to order by Admiral Dewey, and Mr. Raynor resumed his argument in opposition to the admissibility of questions intended to call out the opinions of witnesses.

He contended that if the testimony giving opinions should be admitted the inquiry would be interminable. If, for instance, opinions were to be taken as to the propriety of the loop made by the Brooklyn, practically the entire navy could be summoned, as all its members were experts and each would have his opinion. Witnesses were expected to relate facts; the court to give opinions.

Replying, Judge Advocate Lemly quoted the record in the trial of Admiral Schley, arguing that it was entirely within the discretion of the court to decide whether the opinion of a witness who

EASTERN MEN REFUSE TO TAKE PLACE OF STRIKERS.

UNION MEN DO MISSIONARY WORK AND INDUCE THE STRANGERS TO LEAVE THE TRAIN AT SACRAMENTO—STATE POLICE GET A SURPRISE.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—Three more carloads of laboring men, nearly all of whom had been engaged in the East to come to California and take the places of the strikers in San Francisco, arrived in this city at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon.

As the overland train pulled into the station the non-union men jumped off and started up town.

Representatives of the strikers had met the train up the road and had been doing missionary work while the train was en route to this city. All the men, about seventy-five in number, who had been engaged to go to San Francisco, left the train in this city and were escorted up town by union labor representatives to get a meal.

The remaining laboring men on the train were nearly all Slavonians.

WOODS ARE FULL OF POLICE.

Every Precaution is Taken to Protect the Czar and Czarina.

COMPIEGNE, France, Sept. 20.—After luncheon the Czar and Czarina drove in a landau through the forest to Pierrefonds to visit the historic chateau. The Czar wore ordinary civilian clothing, he and the Czarina going out quite unattended and apparently unguarded. But, as a matter of fact, the whole forest was swarming with police, detectives and soldiers, who allowed nobody to approach the road along which the Imperial couple drove.

General Boisdeffre, the former chief of the French staff, was received in civilian clothing by the Czar today.

Owing to the general's connection with the Dreyfus case, the Nationalist papers have been trying to make capital out of this visit, saying it is connected with dissatisfaction in the army at Mr. Andre's conduct as Minister of War. This is absolutely untrue. The visit of the general had no political significance, but was purely of a private nature and due to the fact that the Czar was acquainted with General Boisdeffre, whom he received at St. Petersburg and met again during his last visit to France.

After his return from Pierrefonds the Czar will act as godfather at the baptism of the infant daughter of the Count de Montebello, the French Ambassador to Russia, (which will take place in the Hall of the Chateau of Compiègne).

Hints for the Household

To the selection of foods people, as a general rule never pay proper attention; what to eat at a certain time of the day, or the best accessories or seasonings which should accompany them has never received due consideration. We should select our food with a view to securing the greatest possible mental and physical comforts. We should not eat merely to live, nor should we eat with the one idea of gratifying the appetite. All that is necessary to put these hints into practice is to go to the well-known local purveyor of Pure Foods—

FUNERAL OF THE LATE FRANK ENCH

Order of Elks Conduct the Funeral Services at the Grave.

The funeral of the late Frank Ench, the well-known mining man, took place this afternoon at two o'clock from the late residence of the deceased, 1757 Tenth avenue.

The exercises were largely attended, the number of mourners being the largest that has attended a funeral in that section of the city for many years.

The remains lay in an elegant casket in the parlor of the home and were surrounded by a large number of floral tributes.

The exercises were conducted by Rev. Father Maximilian, the ritual of the Catholic Church being used.

At the close of the spiritual services, the remains were taken charge of by Oakland Lodge of Elks, a large number of the members of which were present, and borne to the Elks' Rest in Mountain View Cemetery, where they were interred according to the ritual of the B. P. O. E. The commitment exercises were conducted by Judge H. A. Melvin, Exalted Ruler of the lodge, who was assisted by the other officers of the organization.

The pall-bearers were V. H. Remmer, F. P. McFeely, Charles H. Butler, F. Hartmann, W. Rennie and A. Graff.

The largest single floral token was that from the local lodge of Elks, of which Mr. Ench was an honored member. The offering was a representation in flowers of an elk's tooth, the emblem of the order. The piece stood nine feet in height, and in the white border of the piece the letters "B. P. O. E." were worked in purple immortelles. Beneath these letters a clock with the hands indicating 11 o'clock and an elk's head were worked in purple.

A large placard and wreath of corn flowers, favorites of the deceased, was placed upon the bier by the family. A broken column of pink roses was sent by friends of the deceased at the Oakland Pier.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Moran sent a casket, made of violets and white roses, upon which the word "Rest" was inscribed.

A wreath of memorial palms and lavender ribbon was received from Mrs. H. Sloper.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bon sent a beautiful wreath. A beautiful wreath composed of white roses from Theodore Gior was placed upon the coffin, together with a spray of red carnations from the Misses Mamie and Margaret Deasy.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. McDonough sent a spray of white chrysanthemums.

A large spray of white carnations tied with lavender ribbon was received from Mr. and Mrs. George E. De Golia.

Max Schulz sent a spray of pink asters.

An exquisite spray of California Augusta, and American Beauty roses formed the tribute of Frederick Poock.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hill sent a spray of orchids.

Memorial palms and Scotch thistles were received from Alfonso Trillanes.

A spray of white poppies was received from the Misses Newell.

CODE OF HONOR AT U. C. TO ABOLISH CHEATING.

BERKELEY, Sept. 20.—A meeting of the members of the Associated Students at the University of California was held today in Stiles Hall at which ways and means were discussed to abolish cheating at examinations and recitations.

The knowledge that wholesale cheating has been indulged in by certain of the undergraduates has been agitating the faculty for some time, and the meeting today was the result of a determination to stamp out the practice if possible.

It was decided at the meeting to appoint a committee of thirteen to frame a code of honor the object of which will be to do away with cheating and violent rushing by the students.

John Eschleman, president of the Associated Students, will choose the committee, of which President Wheeler will be a member.

BOARD OF TRADE.

At the meeting of the Board of Trade today appropriate McKinley resolutions were passed.

TALE OF A BUTCHER'S BRIDE

Says She was Treated in a Cruel and Inhuman Manner by Her Husband.

In a complaint for divorce filed today Mrs. Anne Teresa Gieglingen tells of the unhappy relations that have caused her to seek a legal separation from her husband, Arthur George Boxler Gieglingen.

The couple were married on March 1, 1899. Two months afterward Mrs. Gieglingen says, her husband insisted on picking a quarrel with her and that he then and there gave her a forcible and violent slap upon her face with his right hand, thereby causing her to suffer much pain and humiliation. About two months later, after they had gone to San Mateo to reside, it is alleged that Gieglingen struck at his bride with his fist. She dodged the blow so that it merely grazed her cheek. She says the blow caused her much pain and fright.

Mrs. Gieglingen says her husband aggravated her with such remarks as: "What is your family?" and "What were you before I married you?" She in reply said: "My family is as good as yours. You have a black sheep in your family. We have none in ours." He replied: "Don't talk about my family." She then said: "I have as much right to talk about your family as you have to talk about mine."

It is alleged that Gieglingen then grabbed his wife and threw her on the bed. Then, placing his knee upon her chest, said: "Now talk if you can."

In February, 1900, the couple returned to this city to reside. Mrs. Gieglingen says her husband told her the sooner she left him the better it would suit him. "There are plenty of other girls besides you," he is alleged to have said to his wife. "Now I wish I had married some other girl."

Mrs. Gieglingen says she is a small, sensitive woman and that the treatment she received from her husband caused her much grievous pain and suffering. She asks that she be granted a decree of divorce, be allowed to resume her maiden name of Sanders and that she be awarded a reasonable amount of alimony. She says that her husband earns $12 to $14 a week as a butcher and that he has about $300 in bank. Her attorneys are Gibson & Woolner.

NUMBER OF PEOPLE IN THE PROCESSION.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: Various estimates have been given as to the number of men in line yesterday. I have made the following computation, which I give you for what it is worth. The Grand Marshal so directed the movement of the line that all in the procession should have an opportunity of seeing the whole line, and to this end held the head of the procession at Fourteenth street before turning into Webster until the left of the line was uncovered from Fourteenth into Broadway. The countermarching was at First and Broadway, so the length of the procession was measured by twice this distance, from First to Broadway. With the cross streets the length of these blocks is 380 feet; hence the length of the procession would be 26 times 380, or 10,400 feet. The lines marched eight abreast except in one or two instances, and estimating the average distance from back to breast at 10 feet, which is conservative, there were 1,040 lines of 8 men each, which would give as the number of men in procession 8 times 1,040, or 8,320. Making all due allowances for the space occupied by the carriage and horses, bands, marshals, etc., there were 8,000 men in line.

LARGE BREAKS IN TRADES COUNCIL.

Five Delegates Walk Out of the Meeting Because of President's Action.

Dissension has arisen in the Building Trades Council of this city, as a consequence of which the delegates of five affiliated unions, at the last meeting of the Council, walked out of the organization in disdain, and, to day, as a sequence to that secession, A. T. Lynn, delegate from the Plasterers' Union, was charged with larceny and a warrant for his arrest was sworn out in the Police Court by W. P. Ward, president of the Trades Council.

It is alleged in the complaint that, on last Wednesday night, following the secession, Lynn broke into the locker of the Building Trades Council, at the corner of Eleventh street and Broadway, and stole the seal of the organization.

The unions, the representatives of which withdrew from the Council are the Laborers, the Bricklayers, the Cement Workers, the Plasterers and the House-movers.

Their disaffection, it is claimed, was occasioned by the refusal of President Ward of the Council to entertain a motion made by Delegate Kerns last Tuesday night to declare vacant the position of Business Agent of the Council now held by D. A. Shannon.

The refusal of the chair caused the delegates in question to become offended and to leave the place in a manner which did not conceal their feelings.

Shannon has held the office of Business Agent for a couple of weeks. He was elected to the position by a vote of 19 to 11, at the meeting following that at which the resignation of his predecessor, Miller, who has gone to Alaska, was accepted.

Friends of Shannon say that, while the name of no possible successor to Shannon was named at the meeting in question, yet it was supposed then and it is supposed now that it was Kerns' intention to put into the place J. H. Mullen, who formerly held the position. In fact, up to the time of his resignation, several months ago, Shannon's friends also declare that there is an effort made to get an office of some kind for Mullen, but that so far as they are concerned, they want to have nothing to do with either Mullen or Kerns.

Shannon says that the vote which elected him shows how he stands with the representatives of the affiliated unions in the Building Trades Council. He also says that the seceding delegates do not represent the sentiments of their several unions in the unpleasant issues which have arisen within the Council.

GAGE'S TRIBUTE TO MCKINLEY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Secretary Gage today issued the following announcement of the death of President McKinley:

"It has been thought proper to make the sad, but official announcement in this issue of 'Treasury Decision' of the tragic death of William McKinley, the twenty-fifth President of the United States, and to give some expression of that tribute which his character and deeds compel."

"It needed not the shadows of death to make the figure of the late President loom large in the estimate of mankind."

"The Republic he loved he lived to broaden and unify as no previous President had done. Under his prudent and far-seeing statesmanship it took exalted place in the community of nations."

"From his place as private citizen, on through many and increasing honors to his final post as ruler of his people, he remained true to the highest ideals."

"By the people and the Nation at large, and by the world, he was known and will live in grateful annals as a gentleman of noble heart, an affectionate husband, a sturdy friend and a faithful and illustrious President."

"In a long public life, ever open to his fellows, nothing was ever found, even by intemperate partisan zeal, that would cast a shadow on his character."

"The kind and unselfish attributes which his colleagues knew and loved, the public felt, and now men of every faith and following join in reverent acknowledgment of those distinctive virtues and abilities that lift him among the truly great of all ages."

"The passing of Presidents and Kings usually evokes tributes of praise, but in William McKinley's life there was an element that made him more than ruler and which in the hour of his death is above the tribute of speech and tears."

"The ordinary tributes paid to the memory of the great, when they pass from earth, utterly fail to satisfy the mind in an attempted application of them to our dead President."

"I, J. GAGE, Secretary."

SCHLEY CASE.

had been on the ground should be called for by the court. He thought, however, that the weight of authority was against asking an opinion of a witness.

The court then withdrew its questions. Another question put by the court was as to the distance the squadron lay out from Santiago, and the reply was that it was three or four miles out during the daytime and two or three miles out at night. In reply to a question he said that after the bombardment of May 31 no further effort had been made to destroy the Colon because the vessel had gone inside the harbor.

Admiral Higginson was then excused, and Captain C. N. Chester, who commanded the Cincinnati and who is now in command of the naval war college at Newport News, was called.

Captain Chester related an interview he had had with Admiral Schley on board the Brooklyn off the south coast of Cuba on May 20, 1898. He told the Admiral that from his examination of the charts he believed coaling feasible, but he thought it would be done under great disadvantages. He had expressed the opinion that boats might be used, or that a more secure point might be gained under the least, thirty miles to eastward.

Major Thomas N. Wood, of the Marine Corps, who commanded the marine force on the Massachusetts during the Spanish war, testified to the circumstances connected with that vessel's operations during the siege of Santiago. He said that the second day after San Juan Bay was reached by the firing squadron he had seen the Cristobal Colon lying inside the harbor; that there was at that time another Spanish vessel, of the Viscaya class, partly visible.

He had heard that officer say to Captain Higginson: "We are going in, but we will not go in sufficiently near to endanger the vessel." He had been told that the distance was to be 10,000 feet. After the bombardment ceased Major Wood said the Spanish shore batteries continued to fire at the American ships. At this point he had gone forward, where he had again seen Commodore Schley.

"Did you then hear any orders or instructions?" he was asked.

"I then heard someone say, and I believe from the sound of the voice that it was Commodore Schley, 'Starboard your helm and let's get out of this,' answered the witness.

This had occurred on the port side of the conning tower, he said, and the Commodore had been about eight feet from him.

Captain Harber, now naval attaché at Paris and St. Petersburg, who was executive officer on board the Texas during the Spanish war, was asked, in the absence of Captain Philip, to give a detailed account of the operations of that vessel during the war, and he did so. The Texas had been a part of the flying squadron and the witness said that when they steamed for Cienfuegos the flagship had signalled: "We go to Cienfuegos to bag the Spaniards; wish you good luck."

CRUSHED BY ELEVATOR IN LOS ANGELES HOTEL.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—Joe Kato, a Japanese in the employ of the Hotel Van Nuys, was accidentally killed this morning in a peculiar manner. Kato was anxious to see how the elevator worked, and climbing to the side of the shaft he stuck his head through just as the elevator was ascending.

In an instant the heavy iron weights which balance the elevator descended upon his head. He was crushed by 4,800 pounds of iron into the narrow space between the weights and the grating.

Captain Wittman is BEATEN IN COURT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Superior Judge Seawell today decided against Police Captain George W. Wittman in his action against Police Judge Canabise.

The court sustained the demurrer to the complaint interposed by defendant's counsel and dismissed the proceedings.

Captain Wittman sought a writ of prohibition against Judge Canabise to prevent the latter from summoning a jury through the Sheriff of the city and county to serve in the case of the People vs. Wittman, charged with battery.

MAYOR BARSTOW SENDS THANKS TO COMMITTEE.

Oakland, Sept. 20, 1901.

To the Chairman and Members of the McKinley Memorial Committee—Gentlemen: Realizing that the loyal people of Oakland would naturally desire to express their deep sorrow at the death of our beloved President, William McKinley, I requested your honorable committee to take full charge and inaugurate appropriate ceremonies for the occasion.

I now desire, on behalf of the citizens of Oakland, to thank you very kindly for the complete program adopted and the perfect manner in which the same was carried out. It was the grandest, most imposing and expressive procession ever witnessed in Alameda county.

I was pleased to note that every organization and society in the city of Oakland, and of all nationalities, turned out in full numbers to assist your committee in making the occasion as impressive as possible. I think your committee, as well as all parties and organizations taking part in the exercises, should feel that they were truly representing the heartfelt sympathy of the community, as evidenced by the great crowds of citizens who stood with grief-stricken faces along the line of march, which was a fitting tribute from loyal, honest hearts to a great and noble man, who so ably and satisfactorily filled the highest office in the gift of the people. It will ever remain a memorable occasion to the citizens of Oakland.

ANSON BARSTOW, Mayor.

KELLER & FITZGERALD ALSO DECORATED.

Among the names mentioned of the Broadway merchants who appropriately decorated their places of business in respect to our late beloved President, inadvertently the name of the popular firm of Keller & Fitzgerald, at the northwest corner of Broadway and Tenth street, was omitted. This mention is cheerfully made to this well-known and reliable firm, as the decorations were very much noticed for the manner in which they were arranged.

FATAL ECONOMY.

A VERY old maxim declares that it isn't economy to pick up pins; the time is worth more than the pins. Similarly it is not true economy to do without Ivory Soap; your health requires the daily removal of the bodily excretions which are discharged through the pores of the skin. These tiny mouths must be kept open, and they should be opened only with a pure soap.

IVORY SOAP—99% PER CENT PURE.

ERRING WOMAN PLEADS LIBERTY

Mrs. Mary Bull Will Take Her Case to the Supreme Court.

Mrs. Mary C. Bull, who is serving nine months in the County Jail on account of her illicit relations with Clarence Bassett, is to make a final attempt to secure her liberty. Through her attorney, H. S. Aldrich, she has appealed her case to the Supreme Court on habeas corpus proceedings. Last Saturday Judges Melvin, Ellsworth, Greene and Hall, sitting in banc, denied the second attempt of Mrs. Bull to secure her release on habeas corpus proceedings in the Superior Court. The case was heard in banc so that it might be heard before all of the Superior judges without delay. In the event that an adverse decision was rendered, it was desired that all of the judges should have heard the case so that an appeal could be taken immediately.

It is claimed on behalf of the petitioner that the complaint charging her was invalid, having been sworn to by her husband, Charles F. Bull, who, according to law, would not be permitted to prosecute his wife in a criminal proceeding. The judges in banc decided that habeas corpus was not a proper proceeding to test the matter. They held that the matter should be brought upon an appeal from the Police Court judgment. A previous appeal that had been taken was denied on the ground that the objection to the husband swearing to the complaint should have been made before the defendant was tried in the Police Court, as from the evidence introduced it appeared that the defendant was guilty, no matter whether the complaint was sworn to by the husband or not. Another habeas corpus proceeding was denied prior to the proceeding heard in banc. Attorney Aldrich is confident of securing a reversal on appeal. W. H. L. Hynes represented the District Attorney's office in the matter.

CHIEF HODGKINS' THANKS TO THE CITIZENS.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: Kindly permit the use of your paper for the following letter of thanks to the citizens of Oakland.

It is with a deep sense of gratification and pride that I take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation of the splendid manner in which the funeral procession of our beloved President McKinley was carried to a successful conclusion.

To my Chief of Staff, Capt. W. J. Petersen, Chief Aid Geo. W. Arper, Lieut. Price and Bugler Hermann, I desire to express my sincere thanks for their untiring efforts to assist me in the discharge of my duties as Grand Marshal.

To the Marshals of Division, Webb N. Pierce, Samuel J. Taylor, Maj. John W. Tompkins, Col. Robert McKillican, Julius Seuberg and Frederick Sinclair, I express my gratitude for their earnest cooperation and intelligent execution of the instructions given them.

To the vast multitudes of our loyal American citizens who showed by their presence in procession their love for our honored dead and their faith in the genius and integrity of our country, I offer my heartfelt thanks.

The time, labor and self-denial which all contributed to make our mournful assemblage what it was, the spontaneous response of our citizens to show their grief at the nation's loss was a source of inspiration, and expressed not only to the city and State, but to the whole world, that the country is safe and the seeds of anarchy not deeply imbedded in American soil.

Again thanking you all, I am, yours very truly, S. C. HODGKINS, Chief of Police.

FABIOLA BENEFIT TO TAKE PLACE OCT. 2.

The whist and euchre matinee benefit to be given by the ladies of the Fabiola Hospital Association and which was postponed on account of the death of the President is to take place Saturday afternoon, October 5th, at the rooms of the Ebell Club, and Reed Hall.

Players should be present at 1:45 as the games will commence promptly at 2 p. m. If friends desire to play together, they may easily arrange with the ladies in charge.

The matinee is given in benefit of the Fabiola Hospital, which institution is $1,500 in arrears and is in urgent need of funds.

There are no invitations, and tickets may be obtained on the day of the matinee at the doors.

Those who hold tickets for the date as first set, need not change them as they will be accepted without question.

A musical program will be rendered after the games, and it is believed that the worthy object for which the matinee is to be given will reap substantial benefit therefrom.

ALL EBELL SOCIALS ARE ABANDONED.

Out of respect to the memory of President McKinley all social affairs for the month of September in the Ebell Club will be given up. This will include the reception to Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, President of the California Federation of Women's Clubs announced for September 21st and the last Saturday afternoon on September 28th. The regular section work of the Club will continue as usual.

On Saturday, September 21st there will be a business meeting of the officers only of the Federated Clubs of Alameda county to consist with Mrs. Burdette concerning the work for the coming State Convention in February 1902.

F. R. Porter Suggests That He Give the Money to Furnish the Library.

Horace W. Carpenter, founder of Oakland and Alameda county, and the first Mayor of this municipality, is a guest at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco. Yesterday afternoon F. R. Porter sought to have an interview with him, but received this message: "I should be glad to see Mr. Porter but am ill in bed and unable to do so."

Mr. Porter returned to his San Francisco office and penned the letter following: "Four o'clock, Thursday afternoon, September 19, 1901."

"Hon. Horace W. Carpenter—Dear Sir: I regret very much that you were so indisposed today that you were disinclined to converse with me."

"I was closely intimate with your friend, the late F. K. Shattuck, and was also well acquainted with the late A. W. Barrel, like yourself an Oakland pioneer."

"For twenty years I have been a citizen of Oakland, and for many years published a weekly paper there."

"Many times in my paper I spoke justly of you and your works, and advocated the erection of a monument in your honor, declaring that you were Oakland's greatest benefactor. My proposition was unpopular then, but the people of that city are beginning to agree with me in my estimate of your deeds."

"I am thoroughly versed in the history of Oakland, having gained much light from M. W. Wood's History of Alameda County, issued in 1883; and I have long been ripe to write a biography of you."

"If agreeable to you, I would like to have a chat with you at the earliest."

"Yours Faithfully,"

"F. R. PORTER."

"P. S. Recently Andrew Carnegie gave $50,000 for a Free Library building in Oakland. That edifice is done, but the city doesn't appear to have the available means to furnish it. It would be a great surprise to that community, and a glorious act, if Horace W. Carpenter, that city's Creator and first Mayor, should be contribute the needed sum."

SERVICES HELD AT HAYWARDS.

Country People Turn Out to Honor the Memory of the Dead.

HAYWARDS, Sept. 20.—Impressive memorial exercises took place yesterday afternoon at the Native Sons' Hall. The hall was packed to the doors.

The hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion, the stage being draped with two large American flags in the middle of which hung a large colored cut of the late President. The picture was draped in black as was also the sides of the stage. Palms and evergreen were also arranged among the black drapery.

Previous to the exercises at the hall a parade took place in which the Veterans' League, Native Sons and other organizations of the town were represented. After the parade they all marched to the hall where the speaking of the day took place. Rev. Father Lally, Rev. Johnson, Rev. Lyons and Dr. Alexander delivered addresses. All spoke eloquently of the sad affair, which they were gathered together to mourn. During the exercises appropriate music was rendered by a special choir.

The crowd that composed the immense audience were gathered together from all parts of this section of the county. The Portuguese were present in a great body and all were deeply moved by solemn affair.

The exercises were given under the direction of the Veterans' League of this place and to the old soldiers is due the credit of the excellent program, which was carried out without a hitch. Dr. Alexander as chairman of the entertainment committee worked hard to make the exercises the success they undoubtedly were, and great credit is due the doctor for his good work. During the exercises and the better part of the afternoon the fire bell was tolled which added to the solemnity of the occasion.

WRECKED AUTOMOBILE IS FOUND NEAR HAYWARDS.

HAYWARDS, Sept. 20.—An automobile was found near Bulmer Hill yesterday in a state of total collapse. No signs of the owner could be found and it was evident that the machine had been deserted sometime during the night, as it was not there on the evening before. The machine looks as if it had either run away or come in contact with some object while going at great speed.

FRIDAY SEPT. 20, 1901.
FOR GOOD ROADS.

Monro county is to have the distinction of possessing the first of the many projected State highways, for active work is about to be commenced with the $25,000 appropriated for that purpose at the last session of the Legislature. While we are seemingly as far away as ever from the much planned and much talked of network of State roadways, we are in fact approaching that desideratum much faster than most people imagine. The prosperity that has been so marked in the State during the past couple of years has much to do with this, for, with the possession of increased spending money, more and better vehicles have been purchased, bringing in their train a natural demand for better highways. The automobile, too, is an important factor in the premises, especially in those counties containing cities, for purchases of motor carriages have been very extensive in California of late and every owner of one, of course, becomes an earnest crusader for good connecting roads. Sooner or later, therefore, the plans formulated long ago for a first-class system of State highways are certain to materialize and there is little doubt that if the project were presented now to the Legislature upon more practical lines than have obtained in the past, it would receive enough encouragement to secure early success. What appears to be wanted is the adoption of some general plan as to width, material and so forth, and then with each county interested enough in the matter to undertake and pay for the construction and maintenance of its own highways, it would not be long before the State would be linked throughout its length and breadth by roads that would make traveling a pleasure rather than the menace it is in most instances at present. State aid could be extended to counties like Mono, that could not afford such work itself, and it seems as if the hour is ripe for another move to be made by the Good Roads clubs that were formed all over the State a couple of years ago, but which unfortunately did their missionary work at an inopportune time.

Carlton W. Greene former Assistant District Attorney of Alameda county is making a record for himself as an attorney in San Francisco where he has offices. Mr. Greene recently won two very important cases in the Supreme Court of this State.

Mr. Greene also won the case of W. D. Kingsbury against Auditor Wells in San Francisco. Kingsbury as a city official in the school department sought to get more salary. Mr. Greene represented the Auditor and Superintendent of Schools Webster and won the case. The young attorney also won an important election contest in the Supreme Court involving the office of Public Administrator of San Francisco. He succeeded in having the judgment of the lower court reversed.

Judge Ellsworth this morning granted Louise Latrille a divorce from Jean Latrille, a French laundress, on the grounds of habitual intemperance and extreme cruelty. She was awarded the custody of the minor children and $10 a month alimony for their support.

No wonder the Chinese Government has officially expressed its deep sorrow at the death of McKinley. But for the determined policy of our late President the allies would have forced the Chinese to the wall harder than they are at present and the Confucian rulers can well feel that in his passing away they have lost their best and most powerful friend.

The Odd Fellows are going to test the law prohibiting burials in the San Francisco cemeteries. As so many grave issues are involved, the litigation will be unusually interesting.

ATTACKING OUR FORESTS.

The interest attending the elaborate arrangements that are being made to cut and market the timber resources of our northern counties must not be confined to appreciation of the enterprise that has engaged in so mammoth an undertaking. Of far more vital importance is the fact that the long-anticipated denudation of our forests on a wholesale scale has been commenced and the question is therefore again forcibly raised of what are we going to do to preserve the great timber treasures of the Sierras.

In connection with the present operations we are told that the El Dorado Lumber Company has acquired 12,000 acres of yellow and sugar pine in the basin of the American River and is running two sawmills, each with a daily capacity of 40,000 feet of lumber. A second similar undertaking is that of C. A. Smith, a Minnesota lumber king has purchased 10,000 acres of timber land in the vicinity of Lake Tahoe and is preparing to commence logging on a huge scale.

This is all well and good as far as those immediately interested are concerned but from a State standpoint it savors of killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. If we are going to strip our forests of their wealth of timber and do nothing towards replacing the trees it is only a question of a comparatively short time ere, like the other once well timbered States, California will be dotted with barren, unproductive stretches of stumpy land, fit for nothing and standing as a lasting rebuke to the bad policy that permitted such devastation. There is no objection to cutting the timber if provision is made for replenishing the land with trees, in fact it is proper to mark out our lumber resources as long as it is done in a business like way. Now though that we are actually facing the conditions of which we have long been warned by those interested in forest preservation we must act in the matter and act promptly. It will be a year and more before the Legislature meets and during that time great damage will be inflicted that we will not be able to rectify but we must then make provision for the future and meantime it is none too soon to begin the discussion of means of bringing about the desired reform.

Fresno county's big pencil factory at Sanger has been destroyed by fire. Well, it made its mark in its day.

JOHN A. BRITTON IN AN EAST OAKLAND PULPIT.

PRESIDENT OF THE OAKLAND GAS, LIGHT AND HEAT COMPANY DELIVERS AN IMPRESSIVE ADDRESS AT THE CHURCH OF THE ADVENT.

John A. Britton delivered the address at the Church of the Advent last evening. He spoke on the life and death of President McKinley as follows:
"At this time of the nation's grief it does not seem as if words could express the thoughts that are in millions of minds. The silent tongue, the mellow cadence of sacred music are far more appropriate than words. The sacred ceremonies of the church are needed to tell of our sorrow."

"I could not resist coming here, however, to pay my tribute to the noble dead. Three times the pages of our history have been smeared with blood, the stains of which can not be washed away. From this great sorrow we have learned a lesson, though not one for which we would have voluntarily paid the terrible cost."

"Let me take you with me for a few brief moments to a far-away land, in retrospective memory; to a garden-spot outside the waters of a great city. There in the cool shadows of the trees, walks day by day and night by night, with his followers, a man bowed with suffering, struggling against the fate marked out for him, praying to his Father for strength, and in the bitter agony of the night before his cruel and ignominious death, he calls out in the anguish of his soul, 'Father, if I drink, may not pass from me except I drink it.' 'Thy will be done,' and on the morrow he paid the penalty of his greatness, done to his death by the hand of assassins, the same cruel unrelenting murderers that have through the ages even lived to tear down and not build up, the same spirit that has robbed us of one whom all the people loved, revered and honored; and we must needs bow to the will of Almighty God and say as did William McKinley in the whiteness of his soul, 'It is God's way, His will, not ours, be done.'"

"It seems only a few moments ago, measured by the span of a nation's life, that the streets of our city were garlanded with flags and flowers in honor of our Chief Magistrate. The people with loud acclaim made him welcome. He spoke words of counsel, cheer and wisdom to our children, words that should be printed in letters of gold as guide posts for their walks in life. He rode between lines of welcoming thousands, beaming bright smiles upon all, and by his wondrous personality of loving character enshrining himself in the hearts of the people. The homage paid him was not that of a ruler but of the chief citizen of these United States. Today mark the change, the flags and flowers are changed to habiliments of woe, no more the joyful strains of martial music fill the air but the solemn notes of the dirge—no more the joyful acclaim but the silent tread, the solemn visage, the tearful eye. A nation weeps—and all the earth is silenced. There is not a crime that cannot be atoned and we have learned the lesson, and must now apply the remedy that the cause demands. I realize this is a sacred edifice and that ours is not vengeance but I am speaking for the protection of those who come after, for the perpetuity of the nation which we love better than life. The remedy which shall be wrought rests with you. This crime was of jealousy or hate."

"The slime of the serpent of anarchy has been permitted to cover our fair land and his spawn has been spewed over the earth—feeble has been the hand raised to stay his foul and deadly course—and with license it has poisoned the air. Citizens I appeal to you to arouse yourself from lethargy, gird on the armor of intent and go forth and slay this monster of discontent, that would rob you of your rightful heritage, that drags the sacred emblem of our forefathers in the mire and muck of disease and death, be not cowards but men. Now that we must have paid the penalty we shall do all we can to correct the evil, for we have no longer liberty but license and the legislation of the land must call a halt. Laws must be passed of such a nature as will exclude the man from our midst who would defile the most sacred temple on God's earth."

"I am reminded of what Hamlet said when chided by the Queen for his sorrow: 'Seems madam, nay it is I know not seems. 'Tis not alone my inky cloak, good mother, Nor customary suits of solemn black, Nor windy suspiration of forced breath, No, nor the fruitful river in the eye."

That can denote me truly—these indeed seem For they are actions that a man might play But I have that within which passeth show These but the trappings and the suits of woe."

"So it is with the American people today. They have that within which passeth show—it is a firm resolve, a firmer purpose, to avenge the cowardly blow, the deep damnation of his taking off; to become not parties, sects nor creeds, but a united people striving to rebuild the temple of liberty that within the gates of our nation there shall not pass those who menace our commonwealth and that those within its borders shall honor and respect not only the laws under which they are permitted to live, but the men also, whom the people shall call to preside over their destinies."

"William McKinley represented the highest type of man. There was not a stain on his character. A life so pure, so holy that not even a thought of evil came into it—no one could look into his kindly face without feeling that he represented the noblest type of moral purity. Let us guard our government an let us train our children from the noble example he has set."

"Representing that lovable nature that appeals to the hearts of all good men and true, let the mothers of today, keep in the reverent attention of their children the memory of one so great and good, who in his devotion to the wife through her years of suffering and infirmity placed himself upon a pinnacle in the hearts of his countrymen higher than any deed of valor could place a man—for people reverence loyalty, whether to country, flag or family; and the idealistic simplicity of the devotional love of William McKinley has done more than official acts to endear him to the families of our land. To that noble woman, his wife, let tonight our fervent prayers go up, that He who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb will look down upon her with compassion and give her strength to bear up under her affliction."

"We have as a people confidence in the perpetuity of our nation, and in the man who succeeds our martyred President. He has stamped himself as fit to assume the plans and carry out the intentions of the honored dead, and as true and loyal men let us support him in his administration, hold up his hands and surround him with an atmosphere of confidence."

"Be loyal to your Government. Honor your leaders, be just to your antagonists; above all, be jealous of your liberties, and see to it one and all that they are not infringed nor distorted nor used by designing men for selfish purposes nor dishonorable ends. Remember that the man who occupies the office of the President of these United States is not a President of party but 'Our President of the people, for the people and by the people.' Use your powers as American citizens to stamp out disloyalty and treason, no matter in what shape it asserts itself, so that you may enjoy the heritage left by our forefathers without the dictation of the assassins, nurtured in vice and ignorance, and that the people may as they of right should have protection of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

FUNERAL OF LATE FRANK R. GIRARD

Many Friends Attend the Simple Services at the Home.

The funeral of the late Frank R. Girard, the well-known piano dealer, and ex-member of the City Council and Board of Education, took place this morning from the late residence of the deceased, 692 Thirty-fourth street.

The deceased was a member of the Masonic, A. O. U. W. and G. A. R. orders, but the ritual of these organizations were dispensed with and the simple and impressive funeral services of the Episcopal Church were conducted by Rev. John Bakewell of Trinity Episcopal Church.

The remains lay in a cloth-covered casket in the main parlor of the house and were surrounded with beautiful floral pieces, among them being a handsome wreath of laurel palms and white roses; a cross of purple sweet peas and roses by Mr. and Mrs. Fox; a pillow, with the word "Papa," from Frank and Ida, son and daughter respectively of the deceased; a wreath from the Wiley B. Allen Co.; a wreath from Kohler & Chase; an anchor from Mrs. J. Morrow; a spray of white roses and ferns from W. J. Palmanteer; a spray of white carnations from Mrs. G. P. Hunt; a wreath, Mrs. Crittenden, with an indefinite variety of sprays and shower clusters from Miss Floude, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Cook, J. C. Rowell, E. Leavett, W. A. Rouse, Mr. and Mrs. Belden and others.

Among those present at the services were Prof. Putzker, Julius Zabel, Ex-Councilman Brosnahan, Deputy City Clerk Holland, Councilman Wixson, E. B. Sutherland, J. Shannon, Librarian Rother of the University of California, J. L. Davis, Superintendent of Schools McClymonds, Fred Hendrickson, David Hill, Louis Schaffer, President of the City Council, Ex-Councilman Mott, Ex-Councilman Meese, Councilman A. W. Bishop, J. C. Shoup, Councilman Fitzgerald, W. J. Palmanteer of the Central Bank, Ex-Judge E. M. Gibson, Neill Gallagher, F. Christianer, William Moller, H. M. Senborn, Dr. A. M. Barker, Prof. Locher, S. J. Bruce, E. A. Koening, Dr. J. Maher, D. M. Doub, Ex-City Attorney W. A. Daw, Prof. A. Katzenbach, J. J. Warner, N. Gilmore, Assistant City Attorney Condon, William Rutherford, J. A. Colquhoun, M. L. Hadley, Louis Jurgens and many others.

At intervals during the service, a quartette, composed of Ben Clark, Alfred Wilkie, E. T. M. Eckert and Geo. Carleton, sang in a tender manner, "Thy Will Be Done," "Go to Thy Rest in Peace," and "Why Should the Spirit of Mortal Be Proud?"

The pallbearers were J. C. Rowell, Mark Thomas, Fred L. Button, William Moller, Jacob Winkler and B. P. Sawyer, the last two representing Lyon Post, G. A. R.

These, however, only bore the remains to the hearse. The body was then accompanied to the Odd Fellows Cemetery in San Francisco by the family and a few intimate friends, where it was cremated.

A Ray of Light

For woman's guidance is found in the fact that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures female weakness and the diseases of the delicate womanly organs which darken the lives of so many women with suffering and sorrow. That ray of light has penetrated many darkened chambers where women moaned in misery, and has guided them out to health and happiness. "Favorite Prescription" is not a tonic, not a palliative, but a positive cure for the diseases which are peculiar to women. It gives vigor and vitality. It banishes nervousness, headache, and all the aches which come from a diseased condition of the womanly organs. A temperance medicine, it contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

"I was troubled for three years with ulceration and female weakness and my doctor gave me but little relief," writes Mrs. Lulu Hunter, of Allenton, St. Louis Co., Mo. "I saw an advertisement in the paper of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I began the use of it about a year ago. I took five bottles of it, and one bottle of Golden Medical Discovery, and my health is better now than it was for years. I have also recommended these medicines to some of my friends, who suffered from female weakness, and good results have followed."

Grant Green Stole Another Man's Wife and Pays the Penalty.

Grant Green of Willows was sentenced to six months in the County Jail this morning by Judge Smith in the Police Court for having stolen the affections of another man's wife and eloped with her to this city, where they have been in hiding for the last four weeks.

The husband, Charles Plummer of Red Bluff, followed the couple here and caused Green's arrest.

Green is an engineer by trade. He was working on the water front when arrested.

The wife says her husband was cruel to her and the children and that she escaped the attentions of a kinder man as a consequence being killed.

Plummer says that while he was willing to forgive his wife before public disgrace had been brought upon his name, that now he will never permit his wife to share his name again.

Mrs. Plummer has been left penniless and friendless in a strange city.

When sentence was pronounced on Green the wife burst into tears, saying: "They have taken from me the only friend I have or ever had."

WILLIAM M'KINLEY.
Written On the Occasion of His Burial at Canton.

Be soft, my countrymen, the President is dead. The solemn hush of reverence and grief have stilled the hum of industry. Until the obsequies of state are o'er. Most gently, countrymen, the Nation's Chief Has fallen, sacrificed to wanton rage. In memory of the country's foremost son Let not the turbulence of anger and Revenge be loosed among the people on the sad occasion of the last profound Farewell to him whose peerless wisdom built Foundations of a greatness yet to come. When nations battle for supremacy. Let reverence for the mighty dead displace The horror and indignation of a deed So base that crime itself must stand appalled. Let martyred blood renege itself in strength And unity and bloom as did the blood Of Hyacinth. Let sorrow's tribute be A country's tears to keep the memory green Of him whose legacy to all the world Was writ in deeds of peace that stand alone Unmatched by powerful kings or potentates.
